There is never any traffic congestion on the straight and narrow.

When God measures a man, he puts a tape around the heart instead of the head.

Inflation has affected everything except the wages of sin.

How can we have faith in the Bible unless we know what is in it.

A Little More On Science

Webster's Dictionary defines "science" this way: "1. originally, the state or fact of knowledge; knowledge 2. systematized knowledge derived from observation, study, and experimentation carried on in order to determine the nature or principles of what is being studied." Inquiry Into Life, a university biology book in use, defines the "scientific method" this way: "characteristic process by which scientists test their conclusions. Consists of hypothesis generation, observation, and experimentation and results in testable theories."

Evolution fails, by definition, to be either "scientific" or to be the conclusion reached from the "scientific method." The vast amount of information the evolutionists attempt to pawn off on us is really unscientific misinformation, contrary to established and provable scientific fact, i.e., real science. Have you ever wondered why it is often said that most educated people are evolutionists? We have been told that 98% of the scientific community accepts evolution. Sadly, the reason why most educated people are evolutionists is because they have been told that most educated people are evolutionists. Who would want to be in the minority of "educated" people? Obviously we are lacking for fair-mindedness, honesty, and backbone in the "scientific community." I guess that is too much to expect out of those who contend that they are nothing more than educated apes anyhow.

Since when did nose counting and figuring percentages determine objective truth or right and proper attitudes and actions in any area of life? Never in the real world, but in the subjective world of atheistic, man degrading, materialistic evolution, that is par for the course. That method itself is unscientific.
